

SIX CANDIDATES FILE PETITIONS WITH TOWN CLERK

Documents Show Who's Who in Forthcoming
Spring Election

RUMORS ARE HEARD

With the annual spring election only four weeks away, "Who's Who" and what's what in local politics is a favorite topic of the day in Antioch township. Five offices are to be filled at the forthcoming election, April 2, at which time one supervisor is to be elected, also two constables and two justices of the peace. Seeking the five posts are seven avowed candidates, six of whom have already filed their petitions with Town Clerk C. F. Richards.

Two for Supervisor

William A. Roseng, Antioch man, and Frank B. Kennedy, member of the local high school board of education, are full-fledged candidates for the office of supervisor to succeed Barney F. Naher, who is to relinquish the post after eight years of service. Indications are that a third candidate, Justice J. C. James, will enter the race within the next few days, making the supervisor derby an interesting three-cornered race. James said today that he is not a candidate for re-election as justice of the peace, and J. C.'s friends construe this statement to mean that his hat is going to be in the ring along with the other aspirants for the supervisor post.

Tarbell and Hunt for J. P.

Two candidates have come to the front for justices of the peace, Sam Tarbell, who seeks re-election, and Frank Hunt, candidate to succeed J. C. James, who has been a justice in Antioch township for the last 23 years. Two are to be elected, and the petitions of both candidates have been filed with Town Clerk Richards.

Three Constable Candidates

With three candidates in the race and rumors of several more to come, the constable race in Antioch township promises to be a very lively affair. The petitions of Thomas E. Burnette, Frank Mastine and Harry Messing are in the hands of the town clerk. Two are to be elected. Burnette, who has been Antioch township's only constable since the death of Stanley Thompson several weeks ago, is a candidate for re-election.

NEW EMPLOYMENT BUREAU WANTED BY McDONOUGH

Establishment of a free employment bureau in Waukegan to be conducted by the Illinois Department of Labor, has been provided in a bill which has been introduced to the state legislature by Representative Leo McDough, Waukegan.

Under the law the legislature must approve an annual appropriation for the establishment and maintenance of the office. The office would be in charge of a general manager and a secretary.

DICK'S FAVORITES

Material That Macek Virtually "Discovered" Shows Up In Chicago.

Boxing fans of Antioch and the vicinity are familiar with names such as Jimmy Chase, Barney Ross, Johnny Ross, Edward Willis, Roosevelt Haines and Harry Garbell. Today Chicago is familiar with these names. Even the entire state—and other states are familiar with the names—or some of the names—at least. These men have all fought at the Antioch Palace time, and again, and last week they were winners in the Chicago Tribune Golden Gloves contests.

Jimmy Chase successfully defended his flyweight title. He was Golden Glove champion last year. Barney Ross, Antioch's favorite, will turn professional after he goes to New York in the 126 pound class.

Miss Anne Morrow

Anne Spencer Morrow, twenty-three, daughter of Ambassador Dwight Morrow, whose engagement to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was announced by Mr. Morrow. Miss Morrow is a vivacious brunette, a graduate of Smith college, and the younger of the two Morrow daughters.

Miss Morrow was in an airplane crash with Mr. Lindbergh yesterday in Mexico. Although both were injured, the injuries are not considered serious.

ANTIOCH TEAM PLAYS WAUCONDA IN OPENING GAME OF TOURNAMENT

If Local Boys Win, Next
Opponents Will Be The Gurnee Five.

Drawings for the state district high school basketball tournament to be held in Winnetka, March 7, 8, and 9 have been announced.

Antioch's first game is to be with Wauconda, Thursday at 8 o'clock at night. If Antioch wins, the next game is to be with Gurnee at 8 o'clock Friday morning.

Other drawings follow: Des Plaines will play Waukegan; Palatine will meet Lake Zurich, and Winnetka is to play Libertyville.

The winner of the Des Plaines and Waukegan game will play Arlington Heights, and the winner of the Winnetka and Libertyville game is to play the winner of the Palatine and Lake Zurich contest.

Officials of the tournament will be Miller of Lane Tech, and Kraft of Armour Institute.

To discuss plans for the tournament, Arthur G. Wleciecka, chairman of the entertainment committee, and student in the New Trier Township High school, Waukegan, was in Antioch Monday, talking with L. O. Bright and G. G. Reed.

E. S. Smith, superintendent of the Barrington schools, and T. C. Hoffer, a teacher in the Barrington schools, visited the Antioch High school Friday.

Thursday night the local basketball team played Palatine, winning 30 to 8. The second team won 18 to 4. The visitors were outplayed in every part of the game.

The final home game of the season is to be played with Arlington Heights—one of the most deadly of Antioch's opponents. The game is to be Saturday night.

SUIT DISMISSED AGAINST ANTIOCH GARAGE OWNER

After getting a jury, putting in all evidence, and then appearing before Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards, yesterday Attorney E. V. Orvis, Waukegan, dismissed his suit in behalf of Ben Singer, Antioch fruit dealer, against L. M. Wetzel, owner of the Chevrolet Sales, on a charge of a false arrest regarding the disposal of junk from old automobiles. Attorney Orvis, within an hour after the dismissal, filed a praecipe in a new suit for Singer based on the same allegations.

School of Instruction Is Offered Rebekahs Of Antioch Lodge

School of instruction is being offered by the Rebekah lodge Friday afternoon and evening. The instructor is to be Mrs. Grace Balrow, warden of the Illinois State Assembly.

At the dinner period there will be a social hour. The regular Three Link club dinner is to be served to the families of Rebekah members. This will enable those who attend the afternoon session to remain for the evening.

NEGRO ADDRESSES CAPACITY AUDIENCE SUNDAY EVENING

Lincoln Is Lauded By Dr.
A. Livingston Scott,
Chicago.

Lauding Abraham Lincoln and the work of the Civil War president, Dr. Albert Livingston Scott, Negro pastor of Lincoln Congregational church, Chicago, delivered an address before a capacity audience in the Antioch Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night. This address was the third in a series of special Sunday evening services.

Dr. Scott used a historical theme about which to build his sermon, developing his thought into the discussion of racial problems.

"A person or a race," Dr. Scott maintained, "should not be judged by the station in life compared with other persons or races, but should be judged by the advancement made from the beginning."

The Antioch High school orchestra under the direction of L. W. Peterson, and the high school Glee club under the direction of Miss Hedvig Rice, gave a musical program.

Preceding the service, the Epworth League held a meeting and supper. Forty-five young people were present. Members of the high school orchestra and Glee club were guests. Those in charge of the meeting were: Fannie Westlake, Martha Westlake, Leona Hennings, Bertha Sebora, Laura Winslip, and Esther Winslip.

BIG TIME!

Fainting, Yelling, and Wild
Excitement Feature Game Between Antioch and Libertyville.

Maybe you got your money's worth at the Antioch-Libertyville game Saturday night—and maybe you didn't. It was a wild, wild time there at the gym. Almost all of the game, Antioch led—sometimes by seven or nine points. In the last quarter Libertyville showed some unusual speed. The crowd went wild. The Libertyville cheerleader fainted. The scoreboard showed that Antioch had 26 points, and Libertyville had 27.

Everyone—that is, most everyone—went home. The players, dressed, meanwhile, the officials were looking over the score books. Aha! The score was tied. Each team had 26 counters. Mad rush to dressing rooms. Players don ball bags. Few lingering spectators take places along sidelines. An overtime period was played. Scoreless. Therefore, said the coaches, the game would be stopped. The score remained 30 to 30. The point and moral to the story is: If you went home before the overtime period, you should ask for a return of your money at the gate. And that's that.

Hats for Hoover's Inauguration Day

JOSEPHINE BOLTON, 85, SUCCUMBS AT HOME OF GRANDDAUGHTER

High Mass Is Read At St. Peter's Church In Antioch.

Mrs. Josephine Bolton, 85, died February 22, at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Edward Minton, Chicago.

Mrs. Bolton was brought from Germany when an infant by her parents, who settled in New Munster. She lived in Kenosha county, Wisconsin, nearly all of her life. Five years ago she went to live in Racine with her daughter, Mrs. C. Pfeiffer. While in Racine she was a member of St. Joseph's church.

The body was taken to the Skeles-Biddle funeral home, Chicago, and from there conveyed to St. Peter's church, Antioch, where high mass was read. Burial rites were held at the family plot at Liberty cemetery, with the Rev. Father Coleman, officiating.

One daughter, Mrs. C. Pfeiffer, Racine, and one son, George H. Bolton, Pikeville, are left, besides 12 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

For many years Mrs. Bolton came to Antioch, always welcome in the homes of her many friends, and now that she is gone, we feel a charming and true friend has left a vacancy difficult to fill.

Milk Bill Introduced In House by Jackson Is Fourth of Kind

The milk war, although settled in Lake county some time ago, is still an open wound in the Illinois legislature. It was shown Thursday, with the introduction of a new bill by Representative Noyes L. Jackson, of Bolivar, to further regulate milk dealers.

Representative Jackson would require that all milk dealers, to operate in cities having a population of more than 100,000, must secure certificates of convenience and necessity from the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The bill was sent to the House committee on Public Utilities.

This newest addition makes four bills before the House that were inspired by the clash between producers and distributors of milk in the Chicago region some few weeks ago, none of which have yet been accorded a hearing before the committee to which they were referred.

Three of the measures are sponsored by Representative Jackson, while one, the first introduced, was brought in by Representative Richard Lyons of Mundelein.

The first of the Jackson bills, now awaiting its turn before the House committee on agriculture, seeks to require milk producers of neighboring states who send milk into Illinois for sale in its natural state to be licensed by the Illinois Department of Agriculture, with the license subject to suspension or revocation if health provisions stipulated by the department are violated.

Under Commission
A second bill by Representative Jackson, now in the House committee on public utilities, would place producers and distributors of milk under the jurisdiction of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The Lyons bill is similar to this, its object being the setting up of a commission to supervise milk production and distribution, this commission to be identical with the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Are Main Points
The chief point of the new Jackson bill is contained in Article 4, which reads:

"After the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for any person, persons, or corporation, to deliver or distribute in any city of 100,000 population or more, in this state, any fluid milk or cream, for hire, to use or vendor thereof, to or at any store, restaurant, hotel, factory, apartment, home, or other place or places, without first having secured a license, and certificate of convenience and necessity from the Commerce Commission of the State of Illinois, so to do, and all such licenses and certificates of necessity shall cover and include the exclusive right to deliver and distribute all of the fluid milk and cream, used purchased, manufactured, and stored in the territory covered by such licenses and certificates of necessity; provided it shall not be unlawful for the holders of such licenses and certificates to deliver and distribute butter, cheese, and cottage cheese, and the products of milk and cream."

PUNCTURE STORY FOOLS KIDNAPER; HE'S LEFT ALONE

High School Student Goes
To Elkhorn; Reports
To Sheriff

Ordered to drive to this city from Maywood, Carol Lavold, 16-year-old Maywood high school girl, skillfully escaped from her abductor two miles from here Friday night, while the abductor was standing at the rear of the automobile looking for a puncture.

The presence of mind demonstrated by the girl in getting her captor out of the car, probably saved her from an attack, in the opinion of police at Elkhorn, Wisconsin, where Miss Lavold took refuge after her escape.

Is Given Orders

The kidnapping occurred in Maywood, shortly after the girl had made a purchase in a book store and started to drive home. As she reached the outskirts of the Maywood business district, her abductor rose from his hiding place in the rear seat of the car, and, pointing a revolver at her head, ordered her to drive to Antioch.

Thinks Quickly

Miss Lavold complied with the request and the two rode for some time without speaking. As they were bumping over a rough road, near Antioch, the girl told her captor that she believed they had a puncture. The man jumped out to examine the rear tires. As he did so, Miss Lavold stepped on the gas and drove away, leaving her kidnaper alone on the road.

She drove swiftly for several miles in the fast growing dusk before she gave heed to her whereabouts. When she slowed down to determine where she was, she found that she was a few miles from Elkhorn, Wisconsin. She went there and reported her experience to the sheriff at Elkhorn.

A search was started at once in an effort to locate the kidnaper but no trace of him was found. The girl described him as being a handsome young man, wearing gray trousers, a sport sweater, a gray cap and a sport coat. Antioch authorities were also notified to be on the lookout for the man and did so without success.

INCOME TAX MONEY IS DUE MARCH 15

Later Payment Incurs Penalty of Twenty-five Per Cent.

All citizens required to pay income tax must make their payments at the office of A. N. Tiffany, deputy collector of revenue, before 12 o'clock on the night of March 15. If they wish to avoid the additional 25 per cent delinquency penalty, it was stated.

All who do not pay their taxes by March 15 will have to pay the 25 per cent additional tax regardless of whether their delay was intentional or unintentional except in cases of illness.

Those who are aware that they will not be able to pay income tax before the March 15 deadline may send a request to the federal collector in Chicago who will notify the applicants whether their request has been granted or refused. When taxes are finally paid under the permission the written permit for an extension must be presented, according to Mr. Tiffany.

In cases where intentional attempts to escape payment of income taxes are discovered fines of $1,000 are assessed.

LOSE OR WIN?

Did you lose—or didn't you? We're speaking of the prize fight between Starkey and Stribling. Well, Carr and Looney, the Negro entertainers from Tip Top Inn, lost. As a result many business houses were serenaded late last night. And—a good time was had by all.

milk and eggs in and with any such deliveries and distribution of fluid milk and cream.

House Painter Wins Real Art Prize

John Kane, who paints houses and box cars for a living, won the Our People Institute prize in the nineteenth annual exhibition of the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh. He is shown above with one of his canvases. Kane had passed his sixtieth birthday before he achieved his ambition of painting pictures. Twice in recent years his works have been hung in International exhibitions.

Recipes from Trevor have been causing comment among readers everywhere! The recipes are all tested—all have been used often. Now come recipes from Bristol, from Mrs. Nettle Gethen, correspondent. There have been many requests for extra papers since the Trevor recipes have been printed, and now that Bristol and Trevor both send hints on the art of cooking—well! Anyway, here are the recipes, and if any of the readers have some favorites, send them in. Don't be selfish.

BRISTOL RECIPES

Tomato Soup
2 medium sized onions, sliced very thinly, boil about 15 minutes in 4 cups water; then add 2 cups tomatoes, let come to a boil. Season with salt, pepper and butter.

Johony Cake
1 egg well beaten
1/2 cup sugar beaten together
1 tablespoon shortening
1 large cup buttermilk
1 small cup corn meal
1 small cup flour
1 small teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder (not a bitter kind)
Sift soda and baking powder with flour last thing. Bake 30 minutes.

Steamed Pudding
1 egg
1 tablespoon sugar, beaten together
1 tablespoon melted butter, beaten with above
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder sifted with flour
1 teaspoon salt
Pour over apples or other fruit and steam 1 1/2 hours. This recipe is also fine for muffins. Will bake in 15 minutes in hot oven.

Sauce for Pudding
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon corn starch mixed together
2 cups hot water
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon vinegar or lemon juice
Season with nutmeg or strawberry flavoring

Chocolate Pudding
1/2 cup sugar, a little salt
1 large spoonful corn starch
2 tablespoons grated chocolate, mix all together—add 2 cups milk. Boil until it thickens, pour into individual molds (cups may be used by previously filling with cold water and pouring out when ready to add above mixture. It will prevent sticking to cup.) let cool, turn out and serve with cream and sugar seasoned with vanilla.

Ginger Bread

1 egg
1/2 cup (light colored) molasses filling the cup with sugar
1/2 cup sour cream filling the cup with milk
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
1 1/2 cups flour sifted with 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon soda. Beat all together
Pour into tin and sprinkle with sugar

Ginger Cookies

1 cup sugar
1 cup molasses (not dark)
1 cup hot beef drippings (shortening). Suet fried out makes them easier to handle.
1 cup hot water
1 tablespoon ginger
1 dessert spoon soda sifted with 4 cups flour, and a little salt. Let stand over night or until cold. Sprinkle board and rolling pin well with flour. Take out a large spoonful at a time to cut into shape. Bake 9 in a large dripping pan, allowing plenty of room to spread.

Ripe Cucumber Pickles
Pare and soak over night in 1-2 vinegar and 2-3 water. In morning drain and cook until tender in the following:
1 gallon vinegar, if vinegar is strong, use half water
8 cups sugar
1 package stick cinnamon, broken
The above is equally good for sweet apples

Baked Halibut Steak
1 cup cream
1 teaspoon flour
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Dredge steak with the flour, add seasoning and dot with butter. Then pour over cream and bake 15 minutes in quick oven.

Upside Down Cake
Cream one-third cup butter. Add 1 cup sugar, and cream thoroughly together. Add 2 well beaten eggs.

Jacket Ensemble

Here is a jacket ensemble in black and white for early spring wear. The dull blue crepe gives the effect of velvet. The blouse offers a smart contrast in shiny white satin, embroidered with silver thread. Note the chic bow on the left hem of the skirt, and the luxuriant use of white fox trimming. The hat is soft crocheted straw with wisps of white feathers, caught to the underbrim.

Mix and sift 1 1/2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Add to first mixture alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in an iron skillet and add 1 cup brown sugar, stirring until smooth. Spread with a layer of well-drained sliced pineapple. Pour batter over this and bake 35 minutes in a moderate oven. Turn out on plate. Cool. Spread with whipped cream and serve.

TREVOR RECIPES

Apple, Carrot, Raisin Salad
Wash and cube 4 medium apples, peeling may be used if tender and of a pretty color. Add 2 cups of carrots which have been put through food chopper. Wash 1 cup raisins and mix with apples and carrots. Serve with a boiled salad dressing.

Cinnamon Apples
Wash apples, cut or leave whole as desired. Make a syrup of one cup sugar, 1 cup water, 3 or 4 drops of oil of cinnamon and coloring to suit taste. Drop apples in and place in oven. Baste often with colored syrup. Serve with pork roast.

Apple Betty
Peel and cube 6 apples. Add enough water to start them cooking. When all cooked, add 1 cup sugar and one teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg. Make a drop batter of 1 cup flour, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 2 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat the egg and milk together and add dry ingredients. Add 2 tablespoons melted butter. Beat well and drop over apples. Bake in moderate oven until brown.

Dutch Pie
Roll bread dough thinly and place in pie tin. Allow to stand 1/2 hour to rise. Fill crust with sliced apples. Pour custard made of 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, nutmeg or cinnamon to flavor, over apples and bake in medium oven until custard is set and browned.

Meat Balls
1 1/2 pounds ground steak
2 cups raw rice
1 large onion
Salt and pepper to taste
Mix meat, raw rice, onion, and pepper. Put tomatoes in spider. Form mixtures in ball size of large walnut. Put in tomatoes. Add a little hot water to tomatoes as they cook. Cover.

MILLBURN MAN DIES
ELEVEN DAYS AFTER

Peter Strang Is Buried
Monday; Leaves Widow
And Two Sons.

Peter Strang, life long resident of Millburn, died Saturday morning, February 23, at the age of 56 years, after a long lingering illness of many months due to old age. Mr. Strang was a Civil war veteran, having enlisted at the age of 18. His brother, Thomas Strang, also a veteran, preceded him in death by 11 days. He leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters. Mrs. Mary Duncan, Seattle, Washington; William Strang, Waukegan; Mrs. L. J. Sloan, Millburn; James F. Strang, Mrs. William Truax and Mrs. Madge Tebbins, Waukegan, also the following step-children, Frank Lucas, Millburn; Walter Lucas, Mrs. James O'Hare, Wadsworth, and Wilson Lucas, Neceedah, Wisconsin. Funeral services were held at Millburn church Monday afternoon at two o'clock, with the Rev. A. H. Pierstorff, officiating. The D. A. R. and the American Legion took part in the service.

Mrs. Carl Hughes attended the State Farmer's Institute at Centralia from Monday until Thursday.

Francis Swenson returned from Victory Memorial hospital Thursday.

Mrs. A. K. Bain, Rollins, spent Sunday at C. E. Bonner's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bonner and Ralph and Ethel McGuire were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bonner for dinner Sunday.

Mrs. O. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, Eric and Phil Anderson attended the funeral of Miss Foster, sister of Mrs. Anderson, Waukegan, Friday.

Miss Alice Hauman, DeKalb, visited at home from Thursday until Sunday.

Robert Bonner, Jr., is still ill.

Maple Fondant

One cup molasses and 1/2 pound sweet almonds are needed. Blanch and dry the almonds and pound them into a paste. Mix the paste thoroughly into the fondant, adding powdered sugar if necessary to handle. A pleasing result is obtained by coating with plain fondant which has been colored a pale green.

THE AMERICAN FLAG
THE FOLLOWING questions, which are answered on the back page of this edition, have been furnished by The American Legion post of this city in a campaign of education on the American Flag. The following ten questions are the last to be published.

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE
LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD
BY V. LUDEL BODEN

Remember how Happy Boy Bunny and Happy Girl Bunny with their mother, were visiting in the city at Auntie Silkie-ears' home? And do you remember how the Bunny children went to the down-town stores alone and became lost?

After the children had had a good night's rest after their adventure, they awakened full of life. As soon as they had had their breakfast they asked:

"Auntie Silkie-ears, what are we going to do today?"

Their Auntie told them that they were going to the theatre. Well, the Bunny children could scarcely wait until it was time to go to the matinee. A matinee, boys and girls, is a theatre performance in the afternoon instead of at night.

In the theatre the children could not see very well, so Auntie Silkie-ears told them to go down in the front row, and when they had seen all the show, to go out in front of the theatre.

The children couldn't find seats next to each other, so Happy Boy Bunny sat on one side of the theatre, and Baby Girl Bunny sat on the other side. When all of the show had been seen, Mrs. Bunny, Auntie Silkie-ears, and Happy Boy sat in front of the theatre. But Baby Girl was not there.

"Why, where is Baby Girl?" Mrs. Bunny asked. Auntie Silkie-ears said not to worry, that she thought the little Bunny Girl was just staying to see some of the show over. Auntie Silkie-ears sent one of the ushers down to the front row to look for Baby Girl.

The usher came back and said that there was no little Bunny Girl there. Auntie Silkie-ears laughed, and said that she could find Baby Girl. But she couldn't. Baby Girl just wasn't to be found. Mrs. Bunny started to cry. Happy Boy Bunny cried, too, and even Auntie Silkie-ears cried. The usher said he would announce from the stage that a little Bunny girl was lost, and then if Baby Girl were back in the audience, she would know that her mother, her brother, and her aunt were waiting for her.

The usher announced that Baby Girl could not be found, but no one had seen anything of the little Bunny. The police were told to look for her. Well, the show went on. After a while, as some men were dancing, a loud cry was heard.

What do you suppose it was? Baby Girl was crying! An usher ran to see what was wrong. Guess! Baby Girl had gone to sleep in the show, and rolled off the seat, down under the curtain back of the organist. Well, of course no one could see her and she had slept and slept and had not known when it was time to go. When she did wake up she didn't know where she was, and she was frightened. When the usher picked her up, and told her that her mother was looking for her, Baby Girl said drowsily:

"It was a good show anyway, with those bicycle riders, and —" Then she was asleep again.

LAKE VILLALAKE VILLA CHURCH
BY MRS. HAMLIN

The Ladies' Aid society gave the first of a series of noon-day luncheons at the Hooper home on Wednesday. The ladies are working hard for a bathroom at the parsonage, and it is hoped that these luncheons will be a help socially as well as financially. They are also planning a home talent play for some time in the spring.

Next Sunday is Communion Sunday. The pastor will have an inspiring message for you, and you will be better able to care for the business of the week for the hour of relaxation and the help derived from attending the church services next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Friday evening a pot luck supper will be served at the church from 6 o'clock till all are served. Bring some one cooked dish for your family and join the group. The Ladies' Aid business meeting and the meeting of the Official board will also be held at this time.

Tuesday evening, March 5, the Lake Villa Woman's club is to entertain the people of the village in the village church. There will be no admission fee, and an invitation is being extended to everyone. The time is 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Peter Mork fell on the icy pavement near the Jarvis hotel late Saturday afternoon and broke her hip. She was carried to her home and Dr. Jamison who was called, found that it was necessary to call the ambulance to take her to the hospital where she will be a patient for five or six weeks.

SOCIETY and PERSONAL

Reception Honors Senator and Wife In Capital City

Senator Charles S. Deneen, President of the Illinois State Society, was in charge of the party given last night in the New Willard hotel, Washington, in honor of the newly elected Senator and Mrs. Otis P. Glenn of Illinois.

Senator Deneen has also announced that the society will give a reception for Governor and Mrs. Louis L. Emmerson and other Illinois state officers attending the inauguration, Sunday afternoon, March 3, from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Mayflower hotel. All Illinoisans are invited to attend. The Glee club of the Hamilton club of Chicago has been invited to be present.

The Illinois delegation in Congress and their wives will assist Senator and Mrs. Deneen in receiving.

Roy O. West, Secretary of the Interior, will address the society at the February meeting. A program of vocal selections will be given by Mrs. Harry Baker, Jr., soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Frederick E. Smith and Mr. Fred Schaefer bass, accompanied by Mrs. Carl R. Chindblom. Dancing and cards will follow the program.

The following have been appointed chairmen of the various committees: social, Mrs. Charles S. Deneen, assisted by Miss Blina Day Deneen; entertainment, Mrs. Carl R. Chindblom; cards, Mrs. Theodore G. Hiley; floor, Mr. P. N. Stricklin; membership, Judge P. M. Lineberger; and publicity, Mrs. Algernon R. Bailey.

MANY ATTEND PARTY GIVEN BY P. T. A.

Bridge, five hundred and bunch were played at the party given in the grade school Friday night by the Parent-Teacher association.

Prize winners were: bridge—Mrs. W. W. Warriner and Joseph Panowski, first; Mrs. C. C. Petty and Mrs. Fred Hackett, second; five hundred—Mrs. Andrew Lynch and Fred Hawkins, first; Mrs. Olive Keulman and Chris Larson, second; bunch—Mrs. Miller and S. E. Seriously, though, did you hear the orchestra at the Methodist church Sunday night? Members of both the junior and senior orchestras—30 students—combined, played three numbers, Alda March, by Verdi; Spring Song by Mendelssohn, and Melody in F by A. Rubinstein. And oh! what improvement has been made since autumn. L. W. Peterson is the director.

Although some of the orchestra members frankly admit that they prefer popular music—jazz, as it were—to classical selections, the majority of the students would rather study and work on music composed by old masters.

Extra Effort in Care of Hogs Will Repay, College Expert Says

Urbana, February 28.—Prices for hogs should be better during 1929 than they were during the year just past, according to the annual agricultural outlook report just issued by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Increasing the size of their pig crops to take advantage of the promised rise in prices is not out of the question for farmers and hog raisers, despite the fact that the breeding season is now past, according to Dr. W. E. Carroll, chief in swine husbandry.

An unnecessarily large number of pigs die from a variety of causes during the first week or two of life, he explained. Any hog raiser who really wants to boost the size of his pork crop can do so by exercising suitable care to save these pigs during the early days after farrowing, he added. Unless the outlook report is entirely wrong, those who make this effort will be amply rewarded, he believes.

"Some of the heavy losses of pigs during the first week or two of life can be prevented by feeding the brood sows a suitable ration during the latter part of the gestation period. Extra care during the early days after farrowing, a guard rail in the farrowing pens to prevent pigs from being crushed by the sow and suitable rations for the sow after farrowing also will save a large number of pigs that otherwise might be lost.

"Pigs make cheaper gains while they are suckling than at any other time. This is another opportunity to bolster pork profits by giving special attention to the ration fed the young pigs. Feed should be provided in a creep as soon as the pigs begin to eat, which is at about three weeks of age. For dry lot feeding, a ration of shelled corn fed free choice with a mixed supplement composed of two parts tankage, 1 part linseed meal and one part alfalfa meal or chopped alfalfa hay gives excellent results. If this ration is kept before the pigs they will hardly miss the sow when she is taken away."

SOYS MAKE BALANCE FOR MILK FED SOWS, COLLEGE MAN FINDS

Search Is Made For Best Combination of Feeds For Hogs.

Urbana, Feb. 28.—In its search for the best combination of feeds for brood sows suckling litter, the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, is finding that soybeans, popular Illinois legume crop, are a successful protein supplement to corn in the ration of such animals. It is announced by Dr. W. E. Carroll, chief in swine husbandry. If beans are used for this purpose, however, the sows should be given a mineral mixture such as two parts ground limestone, two parts steamed bone meal or spent bone black and one part salt.

"Although corn can make up the major part of the ration for brood sows suckling pigs, some protein supplement such as soybeans must be used for balance. Dairy products liberally used will do it. Practically equal in value to skim milk is a mixture of equal parts by weight of tankage, linseed meal and alfalfa meal. It will take a gallon and a half of skim milk or buttermilk or three-fourths of a pound of the mixed supplement to balance the ration. Regardless of what protein supplement is used, alfalfa hay should be a part of the ration of all brood sows suckling litters until they are put on pasture. Feeding this hay will prevent the sows from 'going down in the back.'

"The day after farrowing, sows can be given a light feed of bulky grain mixture composed, for example, of equal parts of ground oats, wheat middlings and bran. When the pigs are a few days old corn can gradually be introduced into the ration, replacing an equal amount of oats and middlings. The bran can be eliminated and a protein supplement introduced gradually during the first few days after farrowing.

"Each sow should be fed in accordance with the capacity of her pigs to take the milk. Ordinarily, she can safely be on full feed by the time the pigs are a week or ten days old. At that time her ration should be one that will stimulate milk production, for gains on the pigs are made more cheaply in that manner than at any later time."

ANTIOCHIANS ENJOYING SUNNY SOUTH WRITE OF PLEASURES THERE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Selter Spend Winter in State of Texas.

(Mr. and Mrs. Robert Selter, who are spending the winter in Brownsville, Texas, sent the following letter to the News.)

"Lovely sunshine greeted us when we arrived in Brownsville six weeks ago. The warm weather and the happy expressions on the faces of the Southerners impressed us at once. Brownsville is one of the cleanest cities we have ever visited. It has a population of 25,000. Streets for miles around are paved and cared for by aprukling and sweeping.

One can plainly see in the past three years great progress has been gained—many buildings including hotels, stores, schools, churches, banks, and both the M. P. and S. P. R. R. stations as well as many private homes. The International bridge, called the 'Gateway' spanning the Rio Grande river is the only river in America, dry on one side and wet on the other, where Uncle Sam, or the U. S. meets Mexico.

Average is 35,595.

Brownsville with its tropical climate is fast claiming the distinction of being one of the play grounds for winter tourists. We are told the climate of the summer months gets rather hot, up to about 10 a. m. each day, when a cool Gulf breeze blows in, making it delightful. There are many places of amusement. Included are the Golf course and its club house, Fort Brown, which is adjacent to Brownsville and the airport only five miles away, and there are big motor buses running to all points. Over the 'Gateway' into Mexico a toll of five cents is asked both ways, walking or driving, and for one week the average was 35,595 persons.

To go to the city of Matamoros, Mexico, we pay 10 cents as it is too far to walk. This city is typically Mexican. The old church with two tall spires is abandoned as a place for services yet doors are open to the worshippers or sight seers. There are many curio shops, open air gardens, the market and many other quaint old things to see. Here we have both sides, the Texan and the Mexican. Through the kindness of our landlord we had a delightful auto trip of 45 miles to Mercedes and his ranch. This ranch is stocked with many hogs and some land is under cultivation. From here we went to a grapefruit grove. We purchased some fruit there and never have eaten any better. We also learned his fruit has been awarded blue ribbons. On February 18 we had another trip, through citrus groves and newly developed land. On most of the young groves, vegetables, such as lettuce, onions, beets, turnips, cabbage and carrots are grown between the rows and reap quite a harvest before the trees bear fruit, which means three or four years.

Colorful Sight

What seemed strange to us was how the growers irrigate and drain land. It is all for some purpose. Some irrigation ditches are concrete and those that are not will be in time. Producers are now getting in their cotton seed and that is raised extensively and profitably. The most colorful sight one wishes to see is looking over vast areas of beautiful green, then farther on so yellow and this is carrot digging. Many Mexicans doing this work tying them into bunches. There are many acres in cabbage, beets, lettuce and coming into market. As for the dowsery scenery of this city and valley can say it is lovely. We have seen roses ever since we came here and now there are nasturtiums, sweet peas, violets, larkspur, verbenas and marigolds. All are blooming and the fields are rich and covered with wild flowers. The Spanish dagger is a sort of a palm species and has a wonderful large blossom. We went to the airport one afternoon and enjoyed it. While we did not fly, we were invited in the big Ford plane. We hope to go there on the plinth of March as we are told Colonel Lindbergh will be there to fly the first mail plane over the border. We always meet real friends no matter where we are, and it was our good fortune to make the acquaintance of a man and his wife who live here, so we have had lovely trips with them. One Sunday we drove to Point Isabel on the Gulf of Mexico, lovely roads all the way and found this place very interesting. From the old light house with its winding stairs, one can go up and view the city. The house where the late President Harding lived for two weeks while on a fishing trip is here. Some of the Antioch people surprised us while here with a land-seekers' excursion. Their time was short and taken up, but we surely did appreciate seeing them. The climate here is glorious, one really never suffers with heat as the Gulf breeze blows in. One almost forgets what snow looks like and what cold is. We have attended O. E. S. lodge, and all visitors are made very welcome. We get to Fort Brown often, watch the soldiers drill, see the polo games and enjoy the band. We are always glad to receive our Antioch paper, and keep in touch with home news. We expect to arrive in Antioch in April."

PROGRAM IS VARIED AT STATE MEETING HELD IN CENTRALIA

Five From Lake County Attend; Kutil Writes Account

By C. L. Kutil

Lake county representatives at the Thirty-fourth Annual Illinois Farmer's Institute in Centralia last week were: Mrs. Carl Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett, Frank Gorton and C. L. Kutil. The spirit of the meetings was excellent and the delegates all reported their time well spent.

Mayer G. W. Griffin, Centralia, delivered the address of welcome in which he told of Centralia as the "Gateway to Egypt."

Tuesday morning was devoted to a discussion of soils, led by Dr. F. C. Bauer, soil specialist of the University of Illinois. Dr. Bauer stated that soils are dynamic, ever changing and one must study them constantly to see their needs. Limestones, when applied to soils, does its best when applied at intervals of seven or eight years, he said.

Tuesday afternoon was devoted to dairying and as the meeting was held in a territory not specializing in dairying the program was generally devoted to the primary principles of that enterprise.

Farmers Are Warned

Dr. E. Davenport, Dean Emeritus of the University of Illinois, sounded a warning to all present at the evening session, when he made the statement that industrialists have the American public educated to the point where it believes that everything they have to sell is absolutely necessary and if the money is not available, to buy on the installment plan. The farmer was warned to make his expenditures an investment that would work for him.

The Wednesday morning meeting was devoted to horticulture. An interesting talk by Ralph Rees, of the New York Central R. R. company, was given. He discussed the peach industry in the United States and compared one producing region against another as to competition.

Taxation Discussed

The afternoon session was devoted to agricultural economics and taxation. A. C. Everingham discussed the income tax and the gas tax as the two most effective tax measures to get revenue from those who should pay the expense of the government. "Read building is no longer a township undertaking," said Mr. Everingham. "In the past we have been building roads from city to city but now it is up to the state to build a secondary system to pull the rural districts from Illinois mud. These people have assisted to build our main roads but nothing has been done for them so far. Because of poor secondary roads the rural districts now do their business with mail order houses and have Uncle Sam do the delivering as best he can. A good system of roads would build better trade centers in each community," said Mr. Everingham.

Thursday, D. E. Hale, who addressed farmers at the Antioch Institute gave an interesting discussion on "Something New in Poultry."

"Marketing Farm Wastes" with special emphasis on cornstalks and corn cobs was discussed by Dr. Sweeney of Ames, Iowa. Rayon silk, paints, paper, building material, and about 80 other articles are now being made from cornstalks and cobs, he said.

Cornstalk Paper

Paper from cornstalks is now being used quite extensively by newspapers and magazines, he said. Writing paper was available at the institute from a factory in Taylorville, and delegates used it to write to their friends.

Several letters were received in Antioch from the local delegate.

BANKERS IN NATIONAL MOVE FOR UNIFORM FINANCIAL PRACTICES

Would Promote Greater Consistency Among All the State
Laws in Respect to Banking Conditions—Uniformity of Practice and Understanding Will Make for Greater Convenience, Efficiency and Safety for All Business.

By S. J. HIGH

President State Bank Division, American Bankers Association

RAPID interchange of business and the quick transportation of goods in the United States, coupled with almost instantaneous means of inter-communication by telegraph, telephone and wireless, have welded the country into an economic unit. The nation is not, in a business sense, conducting its affairs in water-tight compartments, as in a measure it did in the days of slow travel and remote places, but styles, methods, commodities and business practices flow freely today in all directions. Therefore it is desirable that finance, trade and industry throughout the country operate along generally uniform or at least consistent lines, so that a contract or an agreement or obligation in connection with business transactions shall mean virtually the same thing in all parts of the country. Particularly necessary in this connection is the establishment of uniform financial and banking practices so as to facilitate the flow of trade along accepted and understood lines.

S. J. HIGH

Banking in the United States is recognized as a semi-public type of business and is therefore subject to laws to define the scope and character of its activities. These laws at present set up a great diversity of conditions under which banking is conducted in various parts of the country since they come from both state and federal authorities. The national banks are all chartered by the federal government and therefore operate on the same lines in every state of the Union, but there is no such regularity in respect to the conditions under which the state banks chartered by the respective forty-eight states must conduct their business. All state banking codes, while they have similarities, also have many great dissimilarities in respect both to the national bank laws and the banking laws covering state bank operations in other jurisdictions.

Bankers Move for Uniform Laws

The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association, which latter includes in its membership banks of all descriptions throughout the country subject to all the variations of state and federal banking laws, is committed to the effort to bring about greater consistency and uniformity among the statutes of all these various jurisdictions. This body is conducting a vigorous nationwide campaign urging that active steps be taken to secure greater co-ordination in banking legislation, more equitable conditions and more uniformly efficient public supervision of banks in the several states.

The organization is particularly concerned with fostering this movement to bring about more uniformly desirable conditions throughout the United States in respect to the public supervision of banking institutions by the state banking departments. It is on record as favoring the policy that the important offices of state bank commissioner should be kept as free from entangling partisan politics as the judiciary itself and should be completely detached from all other functions of state government.

It is also on record as favoring the policy that the tenure of office of state bank commissioners should be made more secure and lasting than is now the case in many state jurisdictions and that this important public officer be granted sufficient compensation and discretionary power so that the office shall attract and retain the services of men of outstanding executive ability and successful banking experience.

It is also a part of this policy that the bank commissioner's ability to serve well should be strengthened by providing him with adequate forces of bank examiners, selected on the basis of merit from men having the requisite qualifications of honesty, ability, training and banking knowledge to carry out the duties of their offices on the highest plane of usefulness to the public as well as to banking.

The Trend of State Laws

The Association's State Bank Division has recently concluded a nationwide survey of state banking legislation and conditions and in general has discovered a definite trend along the following lines:

There is a distinct tendency among the states to raise the minimum capital required for banking institutions to $25,000 and also to give the bank commissioners or the banking boards sole power as to the granting of charters for new banks, thus enabling them to use discretion as to the need or desirability of added banking facilities or the fitness of the organizers to enter the banking field. In this connection many states are creating banking boards to act in an advisory capacity with the state bank commissioners.

There has also been observed a tendency to increase the compensation of the bank commissioners and to lengthen their terms of office and to give them power to appoint necessary deputies and examiners so as to build up an adequate force to carry out their responsibilities and duties. An important augmentation of the powers of bank commissioners in some states is found in laws giving them complete charge of insolvent banks and their liquidation as distinguished from more costly liquidation through the courts.

In the Public Interest

Distinctly to the public interest are laws prohibiting or limiting an officer or director of a bank from borrowing from his own bank unless his collateral security is approved by a majority of the board of directors of the bank. Also there is recent legislation noted providing for closer supervision and regulation of building and loan associations, credit unions, finance companies and private banks.

In some states measures have been enacted broadening the field for investment of funds of savings banks and trust companies, which have materially enhanced the service that these institutions can render, particularly in the way of co-operation with their customers in personal financial management. Another type of legislation, important especially to banking in view of the frequent efforts to defraud banks, is that which makes the issuance of worthless checks a misdemeanor with specific penalties.

The State Bank Division of the American Bankers Association endorses in the fullest degree in principle the development of banking laws along the foregoing lines and is actively engaged in fostering the spread of such legislation wherever its services are considered useful both to banking and to the public. Uniformly sound banking institutions and practices, together with common methods and understanding, will naturally add to the convenience, efficiency and safety of business in serving the well-being of the public in all parts of the nation, especially in those transactions involving dealings between different localities.

AMERICA LEADS THE WORLD IN SAVINGS

The past year saw the greatest gains in savings in a single twelve-month ever recorded in the United States, bringing the total savings deposits in banks to over $28,400,000,000 on June 30, 1928, held in more than 53,000,000 individual accounts. It is reported by the American Bankers Association. These are the biggest figures in this field shown by any country in the world.

These figures are indicative of prosperity more general than any time since the business depression of 1920 the report declares. Only three states failed to show a gain and the 1928 volume of savings constituted an increase of more than $2,327,000,000 above the 1927 figure. The gain per inhabitant for 1928 over 1927 was $11 and the gain in number of savings depositors was 2,496,079, an increase of 5.2% as against a growth in the population of the country of 1.2%.

The gain in savings per inhabitant in New England and the Middle Atlantic states over the previous year was $36. These groups of states, with 29.9% of the population of the United States and 52.8% of the total savings deposits, have the largest savings rate $401 per inhabitant, of any area in the world. The per capita savings for the United States as a whole this year stands at $237 as compared with $221 last year.

"An acre of alfalfa for every cow in Howard County, Iowa," is the slogan adopted by the county bankers association there after watching several hundred thousand dollars go out of their county last winter for feed.

Zeppelin vs. Dirigible

The German airship, Graf Zeppelin, carried among its passengers on its recent hold venture across the Atlantic, Count Brandenstein-Zepplin. Perhaps some people wondered how this man happened to bear the same name as the dirigible—and whether a zeppelin is dirigible or not? Count Brandenstein-Zepplin is the son-in-law of Ferdinand, Count von Zeppelin (1838-1917), after whom this particular type of dirigible is named.

For a zeppelin is "a dirigible balloon of the rigid type, consisting of a cylindrical, trussed and covered frame supported by internal gas cells, and provided with means of propulsion and control." Because the first dirigible of this type to make a successful flight was constructed (about 1890-1900) by Count von Zeppelin, the airship was named after him.

To use the name dirigible alone as the name for an airship is a modern shortening for the older "dirigible balloon." For the word dirigible, according to Webster's New International Dictionary, means simply that which "can be directed," that which is steerable. The word comes from the Latin "dirigens," and from the verb meaning to direct; dirigible and direct, as words, are of similar origin. A dirigible is thus merely a balloon that can be controlled or steered. Note also that in the pronunciation of this word the accent is on the first syllable, dir-.

NEW PLAN OF FARM RELIEF

"Believing that much can be gained by developing concrete, workable and just proposals out of the general sentiment for national policies more favorable to agriculture," editors of 56 Minnesota rural newspapers have joined in sponsoring a program of farm relief.

These proposals included development of waterways, retention of the flexible features of the tariff, higher protection, scientific research, protection against Philippine, Hawaiian and Porto Rico competition, reversal of reclamation policy, efforts to reduce costs of production, a Federal farm board with advisory powers, improved credit facilities, encouragement of co-operative marketing, cheaper fertilizer. Higher tariffs are asked specifically on dux, vegetable oils, dairy products, meat and poultry, cereals and sugar.

There is nothing in this list of suggestions to which any reasonable person, interested in the betterment of farming, can take exception.

PROTECTING THE INVESTING PUBLIC

Probably few investors understand the care with which the modern stock exchange examines securities before listing them, so that the purchaser may be assured as large a degree of safety as possible.

Today, before accepting the listing of any security, all recognized stock exchanges require most exhaustive, certified information as to liabilities, dividends, earnings, amount of stock issued and numerous other details. After listing, similar reports are periodically required.

Consequently, it is a practical impossibility for a fraudulent stock to be listed on the large recognized exchanges. Prices increase and decrease, as is natural, but a listed security is, to the best of the belief of experts, sound.

The dramatic speculative side of the stock market is about all that the majority of persons pay attention to—whereas they should know more about the great institutions that form that market.

To those to whom merely the speculative lure has proven irresistible, it might be said that they should at least, before plunging, consult brokerage houses that are members of and strictly regulated by these recognized exchanges, and get the protection that exchanges offer.

HUMAN OR MECHANICAL?

The question as to whether modern mechanical devices furnish greater safety to motorists at grade crossings than human watchmen, swinging the familiar flags and red lanterns, has been presented to the Supreme court of the United States in a case just argued before that tribunal.

Great importance is attached to the forthcoming decision of the court, because of the far-reaching effect it may have upon existing municipal ordinances which fail to distinguish between "mechanical" and "human" watchmen at dangerous grade crossings. Where grade crossings cannot be eliminated, for one reason or another, every motorist is vitally interested in making such crossings just as safe as possible.

The case before the court arose in Tennessee. It involves the death of a motorist at a grade crossing where the railroad company replaced a human watchman with electrical alarm devices in violation of a city ordinance. The ordinance was upheld by the State Supreme court and the railroad company appealed.

The old ordinance requiring human flagmen to protect grade crossings instead of mechanical "flagmen," which are more efficient and economical, is so arbitrary as to lack due process of law and is a burden on interstate commerce, the railroad company argues.

Protection of grade crossings is one of the most obvious uses of police power and the state is empowered to say in what manner crossings shall be guarded, it was argued in support of the ordinance.

BILLBOARDSLESS ROADS

"USE SKIN IF YOU MUST RETAIN YOUR YOUTHFUL FIGURE." "21 MILES TO THE BEST HOTEL IN HIGGINSBURG COUNTY." OR "AUNT FRIEDA'S PIES MAKE YOUR MOUTH WATER." These and any number of signs typical of commercial savorism are doomed as well as its companionette relatives, the gaily colored hot dog stands and highway vegetable markets, through the combined efforts of property owners along the Evanston-Elgin highway, State Road Issue read 55.

Steps have already been taken to keep the entire thirty miles concrete strip free of all billboards, tawdry shops and unsightly roadside features which have so marred the appearance of the average state and county highway as to make it a veritable mall order catalogue. In its stead, the plan calls for the planting and maintaining of roadside trees in the area allotted for such purposes along the 100-foot right-of-way.

Keeping the highways free and clear of such eye obstructions can only result in bringing about greater respect and admiration for the highway system of the state. Let us retain the beauties of the state instead of secreting them behind 36 sheet poster boards, where only those that chance to stop and investigate can appreciate the scenic surroundings of the countryside.

It is the intention of those living along the route to make the Evanston-Elgin road an attractive driveway, passing as it does from the tree-lined streets of Evanston, alongside the Forest Preserve property and beside a particularly effective border planting by the Glenview Golf club, and then westerly toward Elgin through the rolling and partly wooded land in Elk Grove, Schaumburg and Hanover townships of Cook county.

Two dry agents are said to have consumed 53 high balls in one evening in getting evidence against the proprietor of a New York night club. Doubtless they now have a nice interior coat of varnish.

According to the male fashion experts a man must have twenty suits of clothes and at least twelve hats to be well dressed. But he doesn't have to wear them all at one time.

They may talk about putting business principles in agriculture, but the farmer will never be a real business man until he knocks off work at noon and goes out to play golf.

One kind of jam that is not popular with the housewife, especially about six o'clock in the evening, is the traffic jam.

Among the things which have gone entirely out of fashion are red flannel petticoats, dog carts and chap-erones.

It must be admitted that these cold winter mornings it is hard to improve on a housewife who can fill the breakfast table with hot buckwheat cakes, maple syrup and a pot of steaming coffee.

New York theatrical men are trying to find the reason for poor theater business in the country this winter. They will be lucky if they hit on the real reason which is poor shows.

Questions That Burn You Up

SELF DIRECTION

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

Cantner was standing in front of the old house in which he is living when I drove by this morning. He is rather a broken old man now, making an uncertain living by peddling his products from door to door. I recall that when I was a young fellow he had the best shop of its kind in town and we thought was due to become one of the well-to-do citizens of town. He had learned his trade early, he had shown more than commonplace talent in it, and when he was twenty-five or so had started an independent business of his own. He was an excellent worker, he knew his particular trade and when working for some one else no one was better, but he could not manage himself. He had no business sense, no powers of self direction, and whatever he undertook ended in failure.

He tried first one thing and then another, but only when he was under the direction of some one else did he accomplish anything worth while. He had a learned the power of self direction. He had to have a manager or a boss to bring out the best that was in him. If he had been married it might have been different, but Cantner remained a bachelor, and so missed the chance of having a regular manager. There is no telling how many of us have been saved by marriage.

Cross knew a good deal about engineering. In fact, in college it looked as if he might become a really outstanding engineer. He had no initiative, however. He could follow directions admirably. If a piece of work were mapped out for him, he would carry it out to the last detail. It was when he was left to his own devices that he got into difficulty. When there was no one to give him directions he seemed lost, uncertain, ineffective. He found it difficult to get himself to work; it seemed impossible for him to institute anything new or out of the ordinary routine. So long as he had a job under the supervision of another man things went well with him, but put him upon his own resources, and he was lost. He knew how to obey, but he had no understanding of how to command either himself or others. He has been out of college twenty years and is little further along the road to success than when he started.

Mrs. Gates has been telling me what a fine boy she has. He got out of high school a year ago, and ever since has had a good job. His boss has said all sorts of complimentary things about the boy, and his mother thinks he will make everyone sit up and take notice when he gets into college. It may be so.

Young Gates has never directed himself. His tasks have so far been set for him. He has been called in the morning by his mother; he has done during the day what has been laid out for him. When he gets to college he will have to be self directing and that is an entirely different story.

Persons who have been wondering if summer is ever coming, must have thought the summer rush season had opened in Antioch Sunday night. There were automobiles lining both sides of Main street from Blackmon's filling station to the Antioch Grade school, while parking space on Orchard, Victoria, and Lake streets was all gone early in the evening. Only standing room was left in the Methodist church at the community patriotic program where Or. A. Livingston Scott, Chicago Negro pastor, spoke. Persons waiting to hear and see "The Hungry Five" at the Antioch theatre, stood in line down to the First National Bank corner. And at the Crystal theatre there was a large crowd. So is it any wonder that Antioch's icy, wintry streets resembled the summer rush?

Four booze hounds sat round a square table. (Don't think that this rhyme is a fable.) Contents of bottles were drunk. Drinkers died. (That's no bunk) They didn't see the crossbones that was shown on the label.

If a young lover cannot be with his sweetheart he sends flowers or candy. If a neighbor can't help the woman next door who is ill, she sends food. Well, Sam Tarbell is in Florida, and much as he likes the people of Antioch, he can't be here and be there. So he sends an alligator. A big one. Did you see it in Zimmerman's window?

Just as a local business woman was putting a sign, "VEGETABLE SOUP," in the window the other morning, a fox terrier dog stopped by the side of the sign, as much as to say: "Look me over."

Members of Troop 61 are in Waukegan this afternoon, enjoying a swim in the Y. M. C. A. pool.

Still another increase was made in the attendance of Troop 61. Last week there were 16 at meeting, and Tuesday night of this week there were 20. There are still several vacancies in the troop. Those elected to membership last night were Donald Snyder, Armond Dalgard, Clayton Bartlett, Kenneth Mills, John Koukol, Albert Vykruta, and Frank Merrill. Since Scoutmaster A. M. Kralik could not be present at the meeting, Rex Bonser, with the aid of Senior Patrol Leader Harold Hoffman, supervised. It is expected that before long, Mr. Bonser will consent to be assistant scoutmaster, as the boys consider him an excellent choice for the position.

The new members present Tuesday night were assigned to the various patrols. Now that all groups are almost completed, the public is certain to hear more of patrol work.

WILMOT HIGH SCHOOL AND GRADES PRESENT WASHINGTON PROGRAM

Irene Haase Is Chairman of Next Assembly To Be Tomorrow.

Wilmot High school and the grades gave a joint program in the gymnasium Friday afternoon. The following program was given: American students; Famous Men in February; primary students; Yankee Doodle; students; Talks on the Life of Washington, Gladys Miller, Zena Newell, and Mary Daly; Washington Number, primary students; and Pledge of Allegiance, students.

The next assembly of the high school, students will be held in the assembly room Friday with Irene Haase as chairman. The classes alternate in planning the assemblies at present and the juniors are in charge of this week's program.

The Cardinal and white basketball players claimed their sixth victory Friday evening when they defeated the Union Grove team at Union Grove, 27-12. But four more games remain on the Wilmot schedule. The teams to be played are Waterford, Clinton, Union Grove and Genoa City. Wilmot meets the teams of Waterford and Genoa City this week, as both of the teams are at the top of the conference, a victory for Wilmot over these teams would make a splendid finish. With the fading away of the basketball season and the coming of spring the Wilmot boys will soon be out for spring basketball practice.

The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be held in the gymnasium March 12. The program is to be a concert of the boys' band of the Allendale school. Mr. Hinton is the director of the band of 25 boys.

PIRATES DEFEAT FAST DELAVAN FIVE 49-30

North Shore Team Will Be Met Next Sunday Afternoon.

When the Delavan basketball players arrived in Wilmot Sunday, they had been defeated only twice in the last two seasons. They made the homeward journey with one more trimming added to their string. The first half was a close battle with neither team holding a large margin at any time. At the start of the second half, field goals by Richter, Frank and Gegan gave the Pirates a safe lead to which they consistently added. Norman Richter found his eye and led the scoring with 18 points.

PROGRAM OF MUSIC IS TO BE FURNISHED BY ALLENDALE BAND

Sammy Mandell's Boys To Come To Palace Friday Night

Music at the prize fights at the Antioch Palace Friday night will be furnished by the 15-piece band of the Allendale school.

This special attraction, along with the card Promotor Dick Macek has to offer, should draw a big crowd of fans. All the names on one side of the card are of fighters from Sammy Mandell's gym.

The card follows: windup—Ray Trambille vs. Ray O'Hannigan, Belle Plaine A. C. 152 pounds; semi-windup—Jack Harris vs. Leo Leggette, Chicago, 126 pounds; Tony Caponi vs. Harry Leggette, Chicago, 130 pounds; Chet Ferguson vs. Bud Labus, Waukegan A. C., 139 pounds; Jack Fisher vs. Don Conn, Waukegan A. C., 112 pounds; Floyd Straus, Becker vs. Joe Nemmer, Lake Villa, 155 pounds, and E. Aap vs. Ralph Brown, Grayslake, 135 pounds.

Kays Features

The one round knockout of Bud Siler, Libertyville, by "Red" McDowell, Waukegan, featured the boxing show held at the Antioch Palace last Friday night by Promotor Macek.

The end came after about one-half of the opening round had become ancient history. Siler fought gamely but McDowell was easily the better miller. It served as the semi-windup attraction.

Ralph Brown, now of Grayslake, and George Taylor, Waukegan A. C., furnished the activity in the windup of the evening. It turned out to be a real boxing exhibition with Taylor earning the shade at the conclusion of three rounds.

Most of the session was confined to long range punching with neither boy doing a great deal of damage to the other.

Craft is Beaten

The first preliminary of the evening was a slugfest success or whatever else you want to call it. Bud Knowles finally won the decision over Oscar O'Hanlon of Waukegan. In three rounds, each of which was interesting and filled with action from the start.

Billy Gladstone, Chicago, proved to the fans present that he was better than Howard Craft, Grayslake, by taking the verdict of the judges and the referee in three rounds. Gladstone outsmarted the Grayslake boy most of the time, beating him to the punch repeatedly.

Leo Leggette, Chicago, and Eddie Peddle, Lake Forest, put up a fast exhibition with the former winning the decision in three rounds. Leggette had difficulty at first with Peddle but got to him late in the battle with a strong two fisted attack.

The most entertaining bout of the evening brought together two "heavyweights," Chuck Curtis and Jerry Hell, both of Waukegan. After three rounds of feinting, hitting, feinting and hitting Curtis was given the decision. The fans applauded vigorously for the boys as they "did their comedy stuff."

The final bout on the card brought together Jack Nemmer, Lake Villa, New York or elsewhere, and Ray Krug, of Burlington, Wisconsin, and the former, after being floored once, came back to win the laurels.

SPREAD OF WHOOPING COUGH NOTED DURING LAST TWO MONTHS

Warning of Fatality of Disease Is Issued By State Board.

Springfield, Feb. 28.—With a 50 per cent rise in the prevalence of whooping cough since the first of the year and a forecast of a continued increase in the immediate future, the State Department of Public Health issued a warning here today that this disease is extremely fatal to babies under two years old. Nearly 80 per cent of the 4,119 deaths caused by whooping cough during the last ten years in Illinois were among babies under two years old and 52 per cent of them were among children less than one.

"Postponement of whooping cough until after age two would save 350 lives annually in Illinois," says the statement. "Avoid the disease until age five and nearly all deaths from that cause, an average of more than 400 annually, would be prevented."

"We are now in the midst of what is called the winter whooping cough season. Case reports have risen from about 100 to 150 per week since January 1. February and March usually yield a higher prevalence than January and the trend seems to be running true to form this year. Probably not more than 40 per cent of the cases that actually occur are reported but the story ultimately finds its way into the records on the death certificates of little babies who get infected."

"Whooping cough is mighty serious."

Collecting of Taxes To Be Begun April 1, Treasurer Announces

One more step toward the collection of general taxes was taken last week by Treasurer Jay H. Morse who prepared a list of county collectors for each township of making payment more convenient for residents out in the county.

Within the next week the treasurer intends to commission these sub-collectors and it is his intention to get the same force as he had last year due to their experience.

These officers are held open for about 30 days after the treasurer is ready to accept taxes at the county building. The date of opening will be about April 1.

"I am trying to build up the system of collection so that there will be no congestion and no delay in paying taxes. Residents out in the county will be able to pay in their regular trading centers and in Waukegan much of the business can be handled by checks or money orders," he stated.

Is Week Ahead

The work of extending taxes is a week earlier this year, according to County Clerk Lew Hendee. This is due to the fact that the rates from the various taxing bodies came in earlier.

The treasurer intends to have collecting centers in the different cities and villages through the county as a matter of convenience to the public.

The first penalty for tardiness in payment will go on May 1, or only 30 days after the treasurer hopes to open his doors to the public.

It is the hope of officials by opening a week earlier, to make it possible for a large part of the public to start their savings campaigns earlier and thus avoid the terrible load of penalties that have been paid in past years.

IS TO RADIOCAST

Edward James Carroll, son of Mrs. Bertha James Carroll, formerly of Antioch, who won the National solo contest on the tuba, will broadcast from station WMAQ, Chicago, tonight at 9 o'clock and again March 28. He is working in conjunction with a program given by the York Bend instrument company, Chicago. Mr. Carroll is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. James.
